Maria Thorpe currently works for the Federal Government in engineering. She is also a real estate agent, business owner, speaker, mentor and co-author. She believes in giving back to her community and has mentored numerous students and professionals in Science Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM).

For twenty plus years,

Maria has been involved with STEM activities and education of our youth. She has worked tirelessly, mentoring students, speaking at schools and career fairs, providing tours of her labs and having students shadow her to experience a day in the life of an engineer. She was even invited to the White House, under President Obama to discuss STEM careers with underrepresented students. These activities over the years have had her engage thousands of students.
